

Everyone Has a Story, Tell Us Yours!

Be a Part of the "Ram Tracks" The Journal of the Midwest WSF

The Midwest Chapter is seeking quality hunting stories for our bi-annual Ram Tracks journal. The intention of the publication is to inform, educate, and entertain readers. Sharing your past experiences and successes on the mountain or elsewhere will inspire, inform, and entertain Midwest Chapter members. Let us feature your story or simply share your story through a short report or paragraph, along with a pic or two. Any hunting, fishing, outdoors or conservation related story will be considered.

Ram Tracks Submission Guidelines:

- * Feature stories should be approximately 1,000 to 2,500 words, along with a few pictures including captions for each photo. We prefer digital photos and word documents or similar text editor formats.
- * Please submit the highest quality photos available (300 DPI minimum) as .jpg, .png or .pdf.
- * Please consider submitting additional pictures depicting experiences or scenery from your trip.
- * Always show the subject or trophy in a respectful manner and as clean of blood as possible.
- * Please include:

Name of individual(s) and relevant dates and locations.

Outfitter and/or Guide names if services used.

Note if the hunt was obtained through Midwest Chapter event.

You must be a member to be published in our magazine. Memberships are available on line.

Cover stories will be selected by the journal committee. The cover story primary determinants will be the submitted content and photos and how the story helps illustrate our chapter's mission. We edit articles for content and length and may crop or otherwise edit photos. The Midwest Chapter WSF reserves the right to reject any content it finds objectionable, or which promotes unethical or illegal hunting. Furthermore, the Midwest Chapter reserves the right to publish materials at its discretion and timeline.

Deadline for submission: Winter issue: January 15, 2024

Articles Rewards:

All submittals used will receive a Midwest Chapter WSF hat and the story chosen for the cover will receive a Sitka Gear vest with Midwest Chapter WSF logo. The items will be shipped after the publication is printed.
